A PALPABLE PARODY. "Tis the last rose of summer."-Moore

Tis the last golden dollar, Left shining alone; All its brilliant companions Are squandered and gone;
No coin of its mintage
Reflects back its hue;
They went in mint-juleps,

And this will go too? II. I'll not keep thee, thou lone one, Too long in suspense;

Thy brethren were melted, And melt thou to pence! ask for no quarter I'll spend and not spare, Till my old tattered pocket Lies centless and bare!

III. So soon may I foller, When friendships decay,— And from beggary's last dollar

The dimes drop away! When the Maine law has passed, And the groggeries sink, What use would be dollars

HOW TO AVOID A BAD HUSBAND.

With nothing to drink.

Never marry for wealth. A woman's life steth not in the things he possesseth. 2. Never marry a fop, or one who struts out dandy-like, in his silk gloves and ruffles, ith silvered cane, and rings on his fingers; rare! there is a trap!

3. Never marry a niggard, a close-fisted, an, sordid wretch, who saves every penny. spends it grudingly. Take care, lest he stint to death!

Never marry a stranger, on one whose racter is not known or tested. Some feles jump right into the fire, with their eyes de open!

5. Never marry a mope, or a drone, one who wls and draggles through life, one foot after other, and lets things take their own course. 6. Never marry a man who treats his moher or sister unkindly, or indifferently. Such reatment is a sure indication of a mean and wicked beast. 7. Never, on any account, marry a gambler a profane person, one who in the least speaks lightly of God, or religion. Such a man can never make a good husband. 8. Never marry a sloven, a man who is ne gligent of his person, or his dress, and is filthy in his habits. The external appearance is an index to the heart. 9. Shun the rake as a snake! a viper! a demon!

10. Finally, never marry a man who uses tobacco in any form, or who is addicted to the use of ardent spirits. Depend upon it, you are better off alone, that you would be, were you tied to a man whose breath is polluted, and whose vitals are being gnawed out by alcohol. .... "Hello, I say, what did you say your medicine would cure?" "O, it'll cure everything; heal everything." "Ah, well, I'll take a bottle. Maybe it'll heel my boots; they need it bad enough!"

Five Hundred Dollars Reward. MPRESSED as I am with the controlling influence which is exercised by the fine arts upon the direc-ion and destiny of human affairs, it has given me infiite pleasure to witness the bountiful manner in which interpleasure to witness the bountiful manner in which, from time to time, painting and statuary has been encouraged and rewarded by the councils of the nation. But while the acknowledgment is due to the discerning and worthy patrons of the noble arts, it is an equal source of humiliation and sorrow to behold the apparent apathy and indifference with which they seem to regard the incomparably more valuable creations of poetry.

To see them adorn the walls of the Capitol with the lowing revelations of the pencil, and decorate the ablic grounds with the costly cher n'auvaes of the chisel, is an omen of good which will be hailed and applauded by all as a cheering pledge of the progress of refinement. But, whilst they lavish their thousands of refinement. But, whilst they lavish their thousands upon these immobile products of canvass and marble, and bronze, they offer no reward for the more exalted, more enduring and renowned ovations of the pen.—No fostering hand from these high places has ever yet invited the Promethean fire of poetry to animate the history of our country, which with all its harmony of form and wonder of proportion, lies asleep around the humble vault of Mount Vernon, ready to spring into life and beauty at the first kindling touch of this graping life and beauty at the first kindling touch of this genial inspiration.

It surely were a work of supercrogation to introduce the proofs that crowd the records of the past to show how far above all others stands the "divine art" of poesy. What are all the paintings, statues, and regalia of Versailles, of Fontainbleau, & the Tuileries, compared with the "Marseilles Hymn?" What the kingly panoply of gold and genns heaped up in the Tower of London; what the collections of the Royal Academy, or even the time hallowed shrines of Westminster Abbey, when compared with the sones of Burns, and Dibdey. when compared with the songs of Burns, and Dibden, when compared with the songs of Burns, and Dibden, and Campbell? Or what has the world that we would take in exchange for "Hail Columbia" and the "Star-Spangled Banner?" Well might the British statesman exclaim, "Let me but write the bullads of a nation, and I care not who makes its laws."

As far as the living breathing man is above the cold, insensate markle that is wade a represent the insensate marble that is made to represent him; as far as the radiant skies of summer are above the perishable canvass to which the painter has transferred their feeble resemblance, so far is poetry above all other arts that have their mission to console and elevate and inspire the immortal mind of man.

In view of these facts, and considering the lamentable painty of partialic source in such discussions.

ble paucity of patriotic songs in my distinguished and beloved country, and with the hope of being the humble means of arousing a proper public feeling upon this interesting subject, I have been induced to offer, and do hereby offer, the sum of five hundred dollars as a prize for the best National Poem, Ode or Epic.

The rules which will govern the payment of this sum are as follows:

2d. These gentlemen, or any three of them, are hereby authorized to meet at the Smithsonian Institute, on the 2d Monday of December next, at such hour as they may appoint, and there proceed to read and examine the various poems which may have been received, and to determine which is the most meritorious and deserving of the prize. And I hereby bind myself to pay the sum aforementioned forthwith, to whoever they shall present to me as the person who has written, within the time prescribed the best national patriotic poem, and upon their representation that he or she is

I will be fifty years of age the 18th of this month; the attacks were so severe at times as to render me helpless. I have tried various remedies to very little effect. Last October I was attacked in my shoulders, sides, back and hips; I could not rest day or night; I could not move any part of my body without crying with pain. At this time I also tried many remedies, internal and external, without relief. I was at last advised to try HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. Before I had taken one bottle of which, I felt nuch better, and as I continued taking it I felt strength coming into my back and limbs, and my stoniach strengthened and revived every way. I have taken five bottles, and am much better than I ever expected to be. I intend to use it whenever I need, and would recommend it to the afflicted, believing it unequalled.

Cure of Consumption, Neuralgia, Pain in the Side,

Messrs. Mortimer and Mowbray-Gentlemen : It is with pleasure I can testify to the greathealing powers of HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. My wife had been afflicted for three years, laboring under a constant backing cough, with a most violent pain in her right side, neuralgia in the head, and a dimness of sight; very little rest day or night, and much emaciation, and to all appearances a rapid consumption inevitable. We had the most eminent physician in Annapolis, but his medicine did not give her any relief at all, but growing worse if any change in the least; and after having cad one of your pamphlets, in Laky last, she concluded to try Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, and after taking but two bottles of which (under a kind Providence) we appreciated a great change for the KEEP constantly on land a general assortment of Building Materials.

Wonderful cure of hereditary scrofula by Hampton' Vegetable Tincture.
This certificate is from the pen a gentleman whose name appears on the journal of Congress, one who is extensively and favorably known:
"It affords me pleasure to state that Dr. Jesse Hampton's Tincture has effected a most extensiving cure of my slave boy, Albert. The patient was three years old, and had the scrofula—(his lather was scrofulous.)
The boy was a moving mass of sores from head to foot; The boy was a moving mass of sores from head to foot; the upper lids of his eyes were much swollen, and turned inside out, exhibiting horrible mattering ulcers that protruded over the eye balls so as to produce blindness. It is strange yet true, this child, that I felt resigned to see die as a relief from suffering, has been restored to health under the treatment of Dr. Hampton.

MEAT-EATERS, ATTENTION.

THE undersigned have been compelled heretofore to do business under many disadvantages, having to pay cash for all stock purchased, and sell the same upon a credit of at least twelve months. The Trustees of Charlestown, however, having established a Market, which has thus far been most liberally patronized, necessity upon the part of ourselves, no less than what we conceive to be the interest of our customers, compels us to give notice, that hereafter we shall keep the market regularly supplied with the best BEEF, MUTTON AND VEAL.

which money or labor can procure, and to be sold at-the LOWEST PRICES, which our purchases will af-ford, for CASH ONLY. As this rule will operate not only to our own advantage, but subserve the in-terest of our customers, we hope to be able greatly to enlarge our business during the year, and furnish such articles of Meat as have never before been seen in the Charlostown market, and at prices of which mone can complain.
